An aerial photograph showing a coastal industrial and residential area. In the foreground, there are several large, white, cylindrical gas storage tanks with metal scaffolding structures around them. To the left, a tall, modern skyscraper stands prominently. In the center-right, a cluster of older, multi-story residential buildings is visible. The background features a body of water with some small islands or breakwaters, and further back, a dense urban skyline under a clear sky. Various labels are overlaid on the image: "GRAND WATERFRONT" in red text at the top left; "SITE" in red text above a specific building; "No window openings facing Ma Tau Kok Gas Works" with arrows pointing to a building's facade; "TOWNGAS MA TAU KOK GAS PRODUCTION PLANT" in red text near the gas tanks; and several other labels in Chinese and English identifying nearby locations like "Wai Chien Court - Wyler Gardens Block I", "Lucky House", and "Kapok Industrial Building".
